ABOUT BURLINGTON JUNCTION

NOTES OF THAT TOWN BY THE NEWS EDITOR.

CALDWELL HAS 300 HEAD ABERDEEN-ANGUS

Being Next to the Largest Aberdeen-Angus Bunch in America—Have 2,300 Acres in Their Farm.

(Continuing the County "Travelogue" of Vernon Nash, news editor of The Democrat-Forum.)

It is a pleasing introduction that one gets to Burlington Junction if the route taken leads in over the avenue from the southeast. Large houses, among them the home of Walter Mendenhall, editor of the Burlington Junction Post, can be seen. And the rest of the little city of 1,000 does not fall down upon the first impression in the matter of pretty residences.

The business part of town was a disappointment. The town has a better paper (from which I had been making up my mental picture of Burlington Junction) than it has business section. Not that it lacks nice buildings and modern fronts. Corken-Yaple is adding another of the new glass fronts just now.

The trouble with the Main street is that which ails so many smaller places and some larger. Like several spots which might be named in Maryville, there are buildings in Burlington Junction which have outlived their usefulness and have become unsightly. Tearing them down would add 50 cent to the appearance of the other buildings along the business row.

May Raze "Eyesores" Soon.

It is believed in Burlington Junction that this happy consummation will be realized soon, as several of these buildings belong to E. F. Caldwell, and he is planning to raze them before winter. Like all the rest of us, too, the Nodaway township town is suffering from too much dust. It seems strange that all of the towns of the country do not insist on the oiling of their earth streets or some other plan to prevent the clouds of dust in summer.

Homer Carmichael is building a new home just two blocks south of Main street. It is a large, square, two-story house, with a fine basement. Dr. George Trusty is building a new garage on his property just east of the high school. He also has a pretty tennis court in his yard.

In talks with citizens, I found that almost everyone was a ready booster for their home paper and for "Walt" Mendenhall, the editor, who was on his vacation last week when we visited the office. The Rev. Horace S. Weaver, pastor of the Christian church, showed his versatility by doing most of the work in getting the paper out.

Every citizen up there is proud of the high school building also. It is a good building both in appearance and construction, and is prettily set in the center of its block of ground. One would only have to look at the place just once to know that the people of the town favored the best in education.

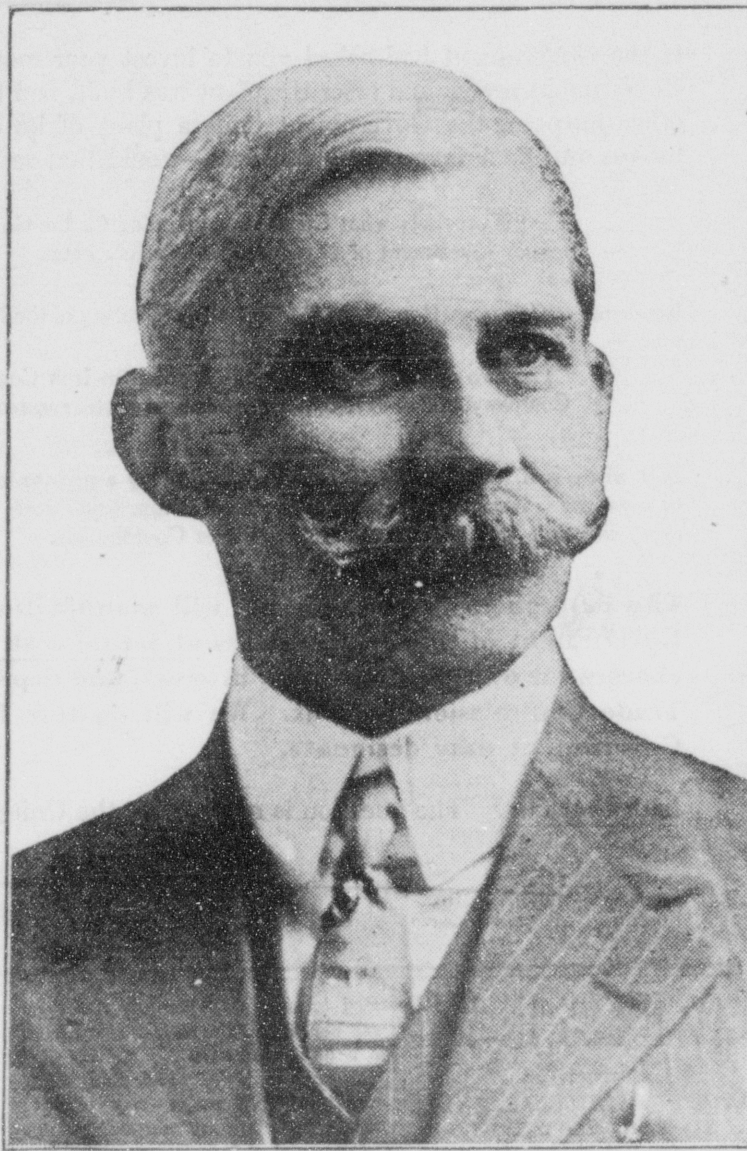

Both Banks Improving Buildings.

Both banks are improving their buildings at this time. The First National is remodeling the rear for the purpose of putting in some new office rooms. The Northwestern is painting its building brick red. The Burlington Junction mineral springs has done considerable repairing and redecorating also, and seems to be doing well this summer, having from fifteen to twenty boarders.

We met W. G. Carpenter, who is fortunate enough to have the Ford agency for that territory. He says that he sells the "tin lizzies" just as rapidly as he can possibly get the deliveries, and wishes devoutly that he could get two carloads every time he gets one. He had just received a new bunch last week.

Several new cement crossings have been placed in town. They are fine for pedestrians, but the motorists

SEVERAL NOT TO TEACH IS MAKING TOUR IN AUTO

Partial List of 1916 Graduating Class and Positions Secured by Them.

It will be of interest to the readers of The Democrat-Forum to learn the positions which the members of this year's Normal graduating class are to hold next year. Fred Williams, candidate for Supreme Court Judge, also a visitor—Many Democrats Met Them.

Cornelius Roach, secretary of state and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was in Maryville today at noon and met a number of the Democrats of the city. Mr. Roach is making an automobile tour of Northwest Missouri and is accompanied by A. B. Duncan, probate judge of Buchanan county, Ross Cox, Wallace Hicks, H. A. Barnes, F. P. Yenewine, Byron Scanlon and William Garnett, all of St. Joseph.

The party visited Andrew, Holt and Atchison counties yesterday, and left Tarkio this morning. They made stops this morning at Westboro, Elmo, Clearmont, Burlington Junction and Wilcox. After spending a short time in Maryville, Mr. Roach and his party will go to Gentry county, stopping this afternoon at Pickering, Hopkins, Sheridan and Parnell.

Mr. Roach is to return to St. Joseph Thursday afternoon and is to speak there that evening.

Mr. Roach feels very hopeful of the outcome and thinks he will carry this part of the state. He denied very emphatically the story published in yesterday's St. Louis Republic to the effect that it is rumored that "Joe" Shannon of Kansas City and Col. "Bill" Phelps of Carthage were doing everything in their power to cause his withdrawal in an eleventh-hour effort to "clear the boards" for John M.

TO ELECT SATURDAY

MANY COMING FOR STANDARD P. C. R. ASS'N ELECTION.

ANOTHER CIRCULAR OUT

In Opposition to the Nine Directors and Secretary Davis—Signed by Many Nebraska Breeders.

The latest development in the Standard Poland-China Record association fight which will come to a head here next Saturday is a four-page paper opposing the nine directors and Secretary Ray Davis. It is signed by 100 leading stockholders of the association, principally Nebraska men.

It is headed "Twenty-six Important Questions Asked by 100 Prominent Poland China Breeders About What Should Be Done for the Standard Poland-China Record Association." The leaders among the 100 and those to whom it is urged that proxies be sent are: John O'Connell, Malcolm, Neb.; S. A. Nelson, Malcolm, Neb.; S. McKelvie, Fairfield, Neb.; W. H. Diegan, Raymond, Neb.; O. E. Wade, Rising City, Neb.; A. F. Burrup, Bee, Neb.; O. McKelvie, Clay Center, Neb.; E. J. Hayes, York, Neb., and H. C. McKelvie, Lincoln, Neb.

The entire stand of the circular is that the hundred have no interest in any personal feeling between Davis and Gilbert. Their arguments are all based upon what is best for the western breeder and for the Standard Record. Nodaway county men among the 100 signers are:

A. C. Barber, Skidmore; F. O. Black, Hopkins; M. A. Nicholas and Son, Maryville; H. I. and Bert Staples, Burlington Junction; W. W. Thompson, Hopkins; B. T. Wray, Hopkins. Fear Removal to Chicago.

All of the men are particularly careful to state that they approve the principle of consolidation and that they do not oppose the re-election of the present stockholders of the Standard from any personal grounds. The new election will be held here next Saturday under the order and supervision of the Nodaway county circuit court on a compromise of a suit brought by W. H. Gilbert and F. P. Robinson against the administration.

The big plea of these men is that they do not want their recording business to go to Chicago. They desire the building up of a strong Missouri Valley marketing center. They believe that a loss of from $7,000 to $9,500 would fall upon the Standard stockholders by the almost certain removal of the consolidated record to Chicago and the depreciation in the value of the building here.

Question 9 of the paper asks to know why Secretary McFadden of the American record was here on the day of the annual meeting last winter and during the recent suit. Did he try to get the Standard directors to jump to the American and who beside him prepared the articles for the directors to agree upon? Secretary Davis is called upon to explain certain parts of his letter to Shattuck and Meese, which was quoted recently in this paper.

The swine census shows a vast preponderance of numbers in favor of the states west of the Mississippi. The hog business is becoming more important every day in the south and the western breeders believe that a Chicago record would not favor them in the business turning to the south. Figures and many arguments are quoted in favor of the present arrangement.

Regards to Davis and Walker.

Answering the question of some why Secretary Davis, the Poland China Journal and directors and other men line up for the present plan of consolidation, the circular says in part:

"It is our opinion that Secretary Davis has betrayed the Poland China Record association through his position as secretary of the association and that he has prostituted its membership. In making this statement, we wish to modify it by saying that we believe that Secretary Davis may possibly have been a victim of older and designing minds.

"When he went into the office for the Standard and began to work actively for Standard interests, early reports after he was first elected show that he got a fine list of new members in a short time. * * * Why has Mr. Davis stepped this good work for the Standard when he gets $2,500 a year to work for them? If Mr. Davis is not prostituting the Standard membership, why will he take money of the Standard and give his efforts to a move that means more power to the Standard's opposing record at

Now that dyes are coming over under water, the ladies may have the stripes a little wider, if they please.

Mr. Hughes will be formally notified of his nomination about July 31. In the meantime, he will go on running for president just as though he knew he had been nominated.

The Wilson diplomacy, that mysterious sort of diplomacy that drives war from our very doors, seems to have triumphed again, and serenity has begun to settle over the Mexican border. Theodore would of course prefer war to peace without a struggle but the people who have to do the struggling prefer the Wilson way.

Victor Murdock, the able representative of the progressive party in Kansas, says he is now "a political orphan" and don't know where he is. Since the big bull moose Teddy shed his horns and grabbed the elephant's tail, there are thousands of others who are political orphans. They must seek a home either with the men that drove them out in 1912 or with Mr. Wilson and his followers who are giving the country a progressive administration. It shouldn't take them long to decide.

Geo. V. Johnson, a Washington correspondent, in a discussion of the president's hopes for the next four years, concludes as follows: "The president has on more than one occasion expressed gratitude for the loyal co-operation of members of congress who have valiantly aided him, and regrets there is opposition in some of their districts to the renomination of his friends. He is hopeful that every Democrat of the present congress will be returned by increased majorities, that the party will be able to continue onward with the Democratic and progressive program for the uplift of the common people."

The president knows, as every other student of legislation knows, that a seasoned member of congress who has learned his job and shown his ability, can be of more service to the administration in helping to carry out and complete the Democratic program than raw recruits. The general in chief needs seasoned men and he knows it. The Democratic party will profit to the extent that it heeds the request.

Chicago?

What About Field Offer?

Mr. Davis gave out the information at the time of the Standard meeting last January that he had an offer from McFadden to go into the field work for the American at the same salary that the Standard was paying him. It is rumored that McFadden made such overtures to Mr. Davis long before the last Standard meeting. How can he then give the Standard efficient service under such conditions?

The paper then takes considerable space in explaining the stand taken by the Poland China Journal. It is asked why this paper runs the pictures of the president of the Standard association, H. B. Walter, in with the pictures of the nine directors each week with the heading "Do You Believe That These Men Are Honest?" The paper points out that Mr. Walter has nothing to do with the enforced election of the new directors as his position is appointive and not elective. The paper says that it is at least a "singular" fact that neither Meese or Shattuck, directors who are so strong for consolidation, had ever attended any meeting of the Standard record until they were elected directors last January.

Now Regarding Mr. Gilbert.

Turning to Mr. Gilbert, the communication says: "The Chicago bunch have been instrumental in giving out the word that if a Standard stockholder was opposed to consolidation, he was in favor of Gilbert. Bosh! Tommyrot! Politics! McFadden could afford to have Gilbert on his pay roll. We do not say this with any reflection on Gilbert, but because it is not interesting to us Poland China breeders to have a disinterested party send out such matter as Mr. Gilbert has mailed out."

To prove that the administration is trying to make capital out of a non-breeder's activities, such as Mr. Gilbert's, the clause is quoted in the appeal of the nine directors in which they ask for re-election as a rebuke to Robinson and Gilbert.

The paper closes with an appeal to forget personalities and to work merely for the good of the breed and the western breeder. Several paragraphs are used in urging the members to send in their proxies to men who will vote against the present nine directors and against any consolidation which will leave any chance of the record headquarters going to Chicago.

Bulletin No. 6

Suppose this was Your Business!

If the Government had asked you to invest your money in a plant to supply Government needs; and after the plant was built, and had become useful for no other purpose, the Government built a plant of its own, making your plant useless and your investment valueless—would that seem fair?

That is precisely what Congress is planning for the Government to do with reference to our investment of $7,000,000 in an armor plant.

Reporting to Congress, Hon. H. A. Herbert, then Secretary of the Navy, said December 31, 1896:

"The two armor contractors, the Bethlehem Iron Company and the Carnegie Steel Company, both entered upon the business at the request of the Navy Department."

Is it wise—is it fair—for the Government to destroy a private industry brought into existence to serve the Government, unless for reasons of compelling force? To show that no such reasons exist, we make this offer to the United States Government:

The Bethlehem Steel Company will manufacture armor plate for the Government of the United States at actual cost of operation plus such charges for overhead expenses, interest, and depreciation as the Federal Trade Commission may fix. We will do this for such period as the Government may designate.

Isn't that fair? The question is now before the United States Senate.

PLAY JOKES IN WAR

AVIATORS PARTICULARLY LIKE TO FOOL THE ENEMY.

DROPPED FOOTBALL BOMB

Not All the Events on Front Are Grim and Soldiers Sometimes Get Good Laughs in Fight.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Paris, July 11.—Flying an aeroplane over the front is not always such a grim business as it is painted. The aviators are, as a rule, lively young fellows who like to have a little joke once in a while.

Some British aviators were playing their inevitable football behind the lines when a bright idea occurred to a young wag. He blew up a water-soaked old football and carried it in his machine the next time he went for a reconnaissance. Just over a village occupied by the Germans he launched the big ball.

"You should have seen those sausages run," he said later. "When they saw that fearsome object swooping down to earth they scurried to shelter like a lot of rabbits, shrieking and yelling. It fell slap in the middle of the square, bounded once or twice and then rolled in a ditch. For a minute or two not a head showed, then a fat soldier peeped nervously out of a doorway and, gradually gaining courage, walked gingerly toward the bomb. "Finally quite a crowd collected—at a safe distance. At last the fat man who had come out first gathered up enough courage to touch the 'bomb' with his foot. It moved easily and he gave it a disgusted kick and everybody walked away, probably swearing at the fool Englishman."

Another British wit took a woolly sheep, such as children play with in the nursery and threw it on the deck of a German destroyer. He laughed loud when the seamen dodged for shelter.

Sheer nerve and effrontery got a Russian airman out of a tight place when he was forced by lack of fuel to land far behind the German lines.

He spoke German well and his uniform was covered by his flying suit. So when a detachment of Germans rushed up to him he greeted them cordially in their own tongue and asked them where he could replenish his tank. They all rushed off to get petrol, and a few minutes later he was flying away with an "Auf Wiedersehen!"

Another good story from Flanders is on a Britisher. The Tommy was walking along a country road when he saw an aeroplane in a field and a swathed figure standing beside it. Not suspecting it might be an enemy machine he hurried to the aviator, extended his arm and shook hands. The German responded silently and sadly and only nodded his head in answer to Tommy's queries. From which the latter concluded the aviator was French.

Just then a party of Fusiliers, who had seen the German come to earth, hurried up. The soldier, bewildered at the sight of their unsling rifles, lost his head and started to run for cover. The Fusiliers took him for the German aeroplane observer and tried to pot him. Happily, their aim was bad and the soldier threw himself in a ditch untouched.

When "captured" and told of his mistake his language was unfit to print. The German guffawed loudly.

Commander Sampson of the British flying corps carried out a clever feat in the early days of the war. The Germans had planted machine guns in a cottage and windmill just behind their lines and were harrying the British considerably. One day the Germans saw an aeroplane hurrying toward them pursued by a hot fire from British batteries. They concluded it was a German machine returning from a raid.

What was their surprise when the aeroplane poured a hot fire into them from almost point blank range! Almost every German was killed or wounded.

For some day you will realize that we would not repeat the story of superb values so often were they not really just what we say.

We know that it is hard to break old ties—but after all there is no sentiment in dollars, and it's dollars you spend when you buy clothes, hats or furnishing goods.

Once you have been here and seen the values we offer in our Hart, Schaffner & Marx Clothes and Clothcraft—our Hats, our Furnishings—you will become a steady patron—as so many have before you. And it is STEADY patrons that we want to have for this business of ours.

Don't wait; don't put it off. Come in today.

ROACH HERE TODAY

Atkinson. Mr. Roach said he was in the race to stay and that he was going to win.

Judge Williams is Here.

Another candidate in the city today was Fred L. Williams, of Joplin, who is the candidate for the Democratic nomination for judge of the supreme court, division No. 2, unexpired term. Mr. Williams is now supreme court commissioner, having been appointed in January, 1913, and filled the unexpired term of Judge Henry W. Bond, resigned.

After serving two years, Mr. Williams was re-appointed by the unanimous vote of the seven judges of the Supreme Court for another term. His only opponent is from the city of St. Louis, and that city is already represented by two very able jurists on the Supreme Bench, while Southwest Missouri, the home of Judge Williams, has none.

Judge Williams made a favorable impression here with the Democrats and nearly all of the lawyers of the city are favorable to his candidacy.

HIS BOBBY IS GARDENING

If Dame Fashion Should Cease to Smile on Shoes, He Could Raise and Sell Vegetables.

We all know what Maryville men do during working hours, but not many of us are familiar with the hobbies that occupy them when they are not selling groceries, dry-goods or footwear or scooping in the dollars that we give them for safe keeping.

Gardening is a hobby which a number of our most successful business men ride. They find that it is not only conducive to a long life but also to prosperity, and consequently, they are the possessors of gardens that would make the heart of a professional farmer glad.

One of these garden spots representing enthusiasm, care and enterprise on the part of a business man is that of Bruce Montgomery. Back of his beautiful home on West Third street he has a plot of ground, 50x75 feet and in this space he has everything in the vegetable way that grows. He didn't do the plowing himself—but with this exception, he has taken entire care of his garden—planting, cultivating and weeding, and his fine crop shows that were Dame Fashion to dictate bare feet for her votaries, Mr. Montgomery could easily turn to truck gardening for his income.

Mr. Montgomery is proud of his garden and lets none of his friends get by without a call to come over and look at his fine vegetables. He not only furnishes his own household with all vegetables in season, but he is ever ready to give samples of his "wares" to those who wish them. His vegetable supply includes tomatoes, corn, beans, radishes, head and Chinese lettuce, kohlrabi, peanuts, parsnips, parsley, Brussels sprouts, asparagus, watermelons, strawberries and cantaloupe. The only things that Mr. Montgomery refuses to have in his garden are—onions. Why? He says he doesn't like 'em.

 often express the wish that a little filling might be placed on each side of some of the bumps to save depreciation on the autos. Nodaway township has a large number of teams busy hauling cement and materials from Burlington Junction out to where the concrete gangs are being kept busy.
 One cannot go far in the country these days without running into the candidates. We met Elith Busby Friday in the Junction. He is a candidate for treasurer on the Republican ticket but does not have to worry for some time yet, as he has no opposition for the nomination. Mr. Busby is not enthusiastic about campaigning. He says he would rather be pitching hay or following the cultivator any day.
 Caldwell Sale Probably Oct. 31.
 After I had seen all I could see in the town and Marion F. Smith has taken about a dozen renewals and a half dozen new subscribers, we rambled out north of town to see the biggest thing in Nodaway township and one of the really distinctive things of Nodaway county—the Caldwell home and the Aberdeen-Angus herd of cattle.

A new plan will be used for the third annual sale of C. D. and E. F. Caldwell this year. It will be held probably October 31, because that is the first date which Fred Reppert, the famous auctioneer, has open. The Escher sale north of Council Bluffs will be held at the same time, either the day before or the day after.

Caldwells have always drawn well from the south and Escher from the north. It is believed that by holding the two sales on successive days the two groups will mix at both sales. Caldwell will have about sixty-five head for sale in October. They also plan to have sales in March and May next spring.

The herd at Burlington Junction is next to the largest Aberdeen-Angus bunch in America, now numbering about 300 head. Escher has 400. The Caldwell have been very unfortunate in losing several fine bulls recently. Although they recovered the sale price of $4,500 and other expenses on Evercaux of Harviestown, they figure that he would have been worth $10,000 in the first season.

Lost Valuable Bull Calf.

A death which hurt as much as or more than that of Evercaux was that of an 8-months-old bull calf which occurred about two months ago. This animal had elicited the wonder of every Angus breeder who had seen him and a great future was predicted.

Ed bought three cows at an Escher sale last week and in price topped the sale with the highest three. We drove the Ford down into the field to see them and the finest of the herd, and after we had seen champions and ex-champions in the runs I felt as if I had been to a state fair or the American Royal.

We saw majestic old matrons who had given calf after calf meeting all opposition and carrying off the blue ribbons. One great old cow delivered twins when 22 years old. The Aberdeen-Angus are noted for their long life and usefulness. "Old Granny," who is the first listed in the record books had her thirty-eighth calf in her thirty-fifth year when she was struck by lightning and killed.

It was amusing to watch those cattle as the car came down into the field. I expected to see the cattle run from the "chug-chug." They scarcely looked up and then it occurred to me that they are accustomed to visitors at all times of the day. I should like to have remembered the names of all those undefeated "champs."

Shall Always Remain "Stars."

But I feel sure that I will always remember Star and his offspring. This fine old bull has a distinctive "class" about him and a "carriage" in his head which is noticeable in every one of the bull calves which he has sired. I know that it is plain because it is apparent to those who know little or nothing of cattle.

Another surprise to me was seeing cattle of other colors than black. Caldwell has almost a dozen head of pure-bred Holsteins and a large number of other good milch cows. These are used as nursery cows, the calves being taken from their prize mothers within a few months and the prize stock are made sleek and in showing style by suckling these nurse cows.

I met Johnson, the herdsman, dean of American breeders and showmen, who was with Harris and Escher before coming to the Caldwell. He is an expert feeder and always brings home a major share of the prizes.

One is mistaken, however, if he thinks that the Caldwell ranch is notable only for its greatest thing, the black cattle. Caldwell Brothers are going to be heard from in a few years on the show and work horse business. C. D. Caldwell Jr., who graduated from the Missouri College of Agriculture this year, is a great lover of horse flesh.

Youngest a Stock Judge.

The youngest of the three breeders is also a good judge of cattle, horses and all kinds of stock, having been a member of the teams from the college and taken second among the twenty-two contestants at the big Chicago stock show last year. These twenty-two were the pick of the agricultural colleges of the country.

Charlie already has two Rex McDonald mates, daughters of the world's champion saddle horse, which lies buried in the fair grounds at Mexico, Mo. These mares are becoming rare already, and the possession of two means a good string of show horses. One of them is bred to the famous stallion, My Major Dare.

Besides the show horses among the roadsters and saddle stock, they are building up a heavy work horse group which will soon be formidable to exhibitors. Two M. U. College of Agriculture men are upon the ranch besides the younger son. Bland Hill graduated this year with C. D. Jr., and Walter Placke will get his degree next year. Both are working upon the place for the experience of being on a great cattle farm.

The senior Caldwell and Mrs. Caldwell have a fad at this time of which they are very proud. A Columbia friend sent a pair of wild Mallard ducks. From this pair which came this spring, they now have thirty small ducks and fifteen more will hatch this week. They make an unusual sight as they chase bugs over the yard.

Tell a Joke on Charles Jr.

The Caldwell property is in two sections. The ranch, eight miles west of Burlington Junction, has about eighteen hundred acres in it. The farm just north of town has 556 acres. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell tell with much pleasure still of an amusing saying of Charles when the family moved to the new home.

He evidently had heard some argument against their moving so far from the 1,800 acres so as he entered the front door of the new brick home, he let his pet "kitty" down on the floor and said, "Well, Kitty, this is where we are going to live but I don't think that we will make any money here."

The boy was only 5 years old at the time and it has always created laughter to tell of his business sense at that age.

Not all of the 2,300 acres is given over to the cattle by any means, if they do hold the center of attention. The Caldwell have three tractor engines, a steam, oil and gasoline kind. These are frequently rented by Nodaway township for road work. Straight farming is done on much of the land.

While we were at the Caldwell home a Kentucky bluegrass seed man came. Many perhaps do not know that the larger part of "Kentucky" bluegrass seed comes from Missouri. The agent said that the crop of seed in Kentucky is very short this year. That is unfortunate as the crop in Missouri is also light. The Caldwell usually harvest from 3,000 to 5,000 bushels, but they have none this year. The Timothy grew so fast that it was above the bluegrass before it headed and hence the seed could not be stripped.

The Maitland Herald tells this week of how the industry is getting a start in that county and there seems to be little doubt that Northwest Missouri will ultimately be one of the leading, perhaps the leading bluegrass seed region of the country.

E. F. Talks on County Fair.

While talking concerning exhibits and the showing of cattle, the Nodaway County Fair was mentioned. E. F. Caldwell spoke very plainly of his opinions on fairs. He believes that the Nodaway County Fair is all wrong. I will quote him just as he gave it:

"Every county fair should be county wide in ownership and very few of the successful shows of Missouri are owned by any individual or any small group. It should be purely a civic and community enterprise, not conducted for gain or profit. Above all, it should be entirely clean and free from all fakes and gambling devices.

"Educational and county exhibits and entertainments should prevail. I have no sympathy with the usual style of shows permitted at a county fair and I never propose to show my cattle or any other products in such an institution. This county is too clean in its life to tolerate questionable hang-ers-on at its county fair.

"Nodaway's fair should not conflict with Des Moines or the big circuit. If it does, how can it hope to get large exhibits. I am hoping strongly for a real Nodaway County Fair in a few years with the stock owned by all the leading men of the county, with exhibits really worth while, with all amusements of the highest class and run purely for the betterment of the county and for no man's gain.

"Whenever we get such a fair, I will back it and the Caldwell firm will bring its cattle and other exhibits down to Maryville in abundance. If Nodaway county with all its great resources can't have a really worthwhile fair, no county in the state should be able to do so."

CHECKS STILL MODISH.

For wear on vacations and in the mountains, for all travel, is this natty suit of navy and white check worsted. Navy taffeta is used as a banding on the coat's flare, a metal strip accentuating the belt line. Revers are also featured in taffeta, and crisp organdie furnishes a collar. The stick-up of a rose and its foliage on the turban is chic.

MRS. PISTOLE TO BE BURIED

Funeral to Take Place at Hopkins Tomorrow Morning From Methodist Church.

The body of Mrs. Stephen Pistole, who died in Artesia, N. M., Sunday, will arrive in Hopkins tonight, accompanied by her son, W. B. Pistole, who is an attorney in Artesia. The funeral services will be held from the Methodist church in Pickering tomorrow morning, the Rev. H. McNamee officiating. Burial will be in the Hopkins cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Pistole were old residents of Nodaway county. They went to Artesia for the benefit of their health. Mr. Pistole died in February, 1915, and was brought home to Hopkins to be buried. Mrs. Pistole was born in Ohio, and was 78 years old. She was a sister-in-law of J. C. Pistole, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank at Hopkins.

Nine Deaths and Fifteen Births.

According to Dr. F. R. Anthony there were nine deaths and fifteen births in Polk township during the month of June, of which number Maryville had eight deaths and seven births.

Carranza's recent reply to the secretary of state suggested the plight of a man who has staked his all on a pair of deuces and has been called.

Kansas City Market Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 11, 1916.—The cattle market has shown signs of weakness, but killers need a good many cattle to keep up with urgent orders, and the market closed last week stronger. Cows sold good all week, on account of scarcity. Stockers and feeders sold about steady, except the usual bargains Thursday and Friday, when sales were a quarter lower. The supply of cattle today is 18,000, market weak to 15 lower; cows selling best.

Beef Cattle.

Dry lot cattle sold at $10.30 today, although prime steers in this class are worth up to $10.75. Some Missouri corn and grass steers brought $10.10, others down to $9.50. Kansas wintered steers that brought $9.30 last Wednesday sold at $9.00 today, other sales of Kansas wintered steers at $8.30 to $8.75. A string of pulp fed Westerns brought $10.20, as compared with the sale of some of their mates at St. Joseph at $9.80 to $10.00. A liberal supply of quarantine cattle came in, 167 ear loads and salesmen would not accept early bids made on a 10 to 20 lower basis. Good North Texas fed steers sold later at $8.00 to $8.65. Oklahoma grass steers at $6.50 to $7.75. South Texas dry weather steers $6.25 to $7.90. Cows sold steady in the quarantine division, some medium one at $5.50, grass cows from Kansas at $6.25 and $6.35; best fed cows around $8.00; bulls $6.00 to $7.50; veals up to $11.25.

Stockers and Feeders.

There is an immense number of inquiries coming in from prospective stocker and feeder buyers. Prices closed last week some lower, and sales today are weak, to 10 lower. Normally, the demand will be the heaviest known, beginning whenever the cattle are available. Most of the good stockers sold at $7.00 to $7.50, some Panhandle reds at $7.40 today, and some plain Oklahomas at $6.55. Choice white faces bring $7.75 to $8.00, and feeders sell at $7.25 to $8.50.

Hogs.

The hog market showed strength all last week, with feeble attempts of buyers to enforce decline. The supply today is 9400 head, market almost steady, although it was called 5 to 10 lower at the start. Top paid for heavy hogs was $10.10, equal to the best price Friday. Bulk of sales ranges from $9.50 to $10.05, and best lights up to $9.95. Pigs sell good at $9.00 to $9.50, getting competition from immune dealers and from killers. Order buyers have been a strong feature for a week, paying up to the top for medium weight hogs nearly every day.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs advanced 25 to 50 cents last week and are 15 to 25 higher today, choice springs worth up to $11.00. Arizonas today at $10.25 to $10.60, total receipts 4300 head. Light receipts here mean relatively high market indefinitely, ahead. Wethers are worth up to $7.60, ewes around $7.00, yearling $8.35. Young native breeding ewes sold this morning at $8.50, good mouth breeders around $7.50.

Deceitful Man.

"Didn't you think that was a beautiful girl with me today, Arthur?"
 "What girl, my dearest?"
 "Why, she was with me when you met us in front of the church."
 "Was there a girl there, dear? I didn't notice. I was looking at you."
 And then she loved him all the more.

Bad Outlook For Binks.

"What! Little Binks going to marry big, handsome Kate Blowitz. Why, she could carry him around in her pocket."
 "But she won't. He'll be out of pocket all the time after he marries her."—Boston Transcript.

ELECTING A PRESIDENT

Buchanan
 Defeated
 First Republican Candidate.

BUCHANAN.

THE election of 1856 was the first contest between the two parties as they exist today. Buchanan, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, opposed John C. Fremont, Republican, of New York. The Republican party had just been created. Slavery was the principal issue, and signs of the approaching catastrophe were plainly visible. Buchanan was elected, receiving a popular vote of 1,838,169 to 1,341,204 for his opponent. Millard Fillmore of New York, who was the candidate of the American party, received 874,538 votes. J. C. Breckinridge, Democrat, of Kentucky, was chosen vice president.
